A metaphor is a comparison between two things that replaces the word or name for one object with that of another. Unlike a simile that uses "like" or "as" (you shine like the sun!), a metaphor does not use these two words (a famous line from Romeo and Juliet has Romeo proclaiming "Juliet is the sun"). Metaphors are commonly ...

Most books give rather boring examples of metaphors such as my father is a bear or the librarian was a beast. However, in your poetry (and fiction for that matter) you can do much more than say X is Y, like an algebraic formula. Definitely play with extended metaphors (see above) and experiment with some of the following, using metaphors...
