In other words, "born of water and the Spirit" can't refer to two births, one natural and one spiritual; rather, it refers to one birth, the birth Jesus is referring to when he speaks of being "born again."

What Does 'Born of Water and the Spirit' Mean in John 3:5?

Here the water and spirit come together, the first to signify cleansing from impurity, and the second to depict the transformation of heart that will enable people to follow God wholly. So the revelation that Yahweh would bring cleansing and renewal as water, by means of His Spirit, was clear in the Tanakh.

Born of Water and the Spirit (John 3:4-8): Berean Bible Church

Jesus replied, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God" (3:5). Christians are divided over the meaning of water in this passage. Some believe Jesus meant the amniotic fluid associated with natural childbirth. Others believe water is the word of God.

The Holy Spirit is the source of living water and spiritual cleansing. If "water" is defined as baptism, then we could just as justifiably say, "Out of his heart will flow rivers of living baptism" in John 7:38. If this sounds ridiculous, it is no more so than the idea that water baptism is the source or the means of becoming born again.
